DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-48 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) The invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) The invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) The invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000.

Art Unit: 2838

Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claims 1,20 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Itho et al. (U.S. Patent # 5,519,306).

Itho et al. disclose the claimed subject matters a power conversion apparatus (figures 3-6,8-9,11-14 and 16-17), including a DC link comprising first and second DC busses (figure 6, item +V3 and -V4), a reference bus (figure 6, item 16), a precharge circuit (figure 6, item 38a and 38b), a first and second capacitance (figure 6, item 19 and 20).

4. Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Geissler (U.S. Patent # 6,329,636).

Geissler discloses claimed subject matters a power conversion apparatus figure 1-5), including a buck converter, a boost converter and a DC bus (column 3, line 15-30 and column 4, line 1-5) and a precharge circuit (figure 1, item 101).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2838

6. Claims 3-18,20-24 and 26-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Itho et al. (U.S. Patent # 5,519,306) in combination with Johnson, Jr. (U.S. Patent # 6,819,576) and further in combination with Lenk (U.S. Patent # 6,222,352).

Itho et al. discloses the claimed subject matters as explained in the claims 1,20 and 25, above, except the utilization of the technique for a balancer circuit, an inductor, a buck converter. Johnson, Jr. teaches the utilization of the similar technique for a balancer circuit (figure 2) and Lenk teaches the utilization of the technique for an inductor and buck converter (figure 1 and Abstract, line 1-5). It would have been obvious one having an ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Itho et al.'s power supply by utilizing the technique taught by Johnson, Jr. and Lenk for the purpose of providing a mechanism for controlling voltage excursions on intermediate DC busses and also improve the power factor of the power supply.

7. For method claims 40-48, note that under MPEP 21 12.02, the principles of inherency, if a prior art device, in its normal and usual operation, would necessarily perform the method claimed, then the method claimed will be considered to be anticipated by the prior art device. When the prior art device is the same as a device described in the Specification for carrying out the claimed method, it can be assumed the device *11 inherently perform the claimed process. In re King, 801 F.2d 1324, 231 USPQ 136 (Fed. Cir. 1986). Therefore the previous rejections based on the apparatus will not be repeated.
